

The Rolex ANNIKA Major Award will recognize the player who, during a current LPGA Tour season, has the most outstanding record in all five major championships. Points will be awarded at all five major championships to competitors who finish among the top-10 and ties. To take home the award, a player must also win at least one of the five majors.

The winner of the Rolex ANNIKA Major Award will be announced in a ceremony at the Evian Championship, wrapping up what promises to be an exciting season of majors in 2017.

The point breakdown for players who met criteria for the award is as follows.

RANK	NAME	POINTS	MAJOR WINS
1	So Yeon Ryu	78	1
T2	Sung Hyun Park	60	1
T2	Danielle Kang	60	1
4	Lexi Thompson	32	0
T5	Inbee Park	26	0
T5	Amy Yang	26	0
T7	Brooke Henderson	24	0
T7	Hye Jin Choi	24	0
9	Sei Young Kim	20	0

Point Structure for Rolex ANNIKA Major Award

1st place - 60 pts.; 2nd place - 24 pts.; 3rd place - 18 pts.; 4th place - 14 pts.; 5th place - 12 pts.; 6th place - 10 pts.; 7th place - 8 pts.; 8th place - 6 pts.; 9th place - 4 pts.; 10th place - 2 pts.

Note: This is the same point allocation used at the Major Championships for the Player of the Year Award

OF NOTE

Park becomes the 18th player to win on the LPGA Tour in 2017, with So Yeon Ryu the only multiple victor

She is the season's second Rolex First-Time winner, joining Danielle Kang (KPMG Women's PGA Championship)

At the 2016 U.S. Women's Open, Park was one off the lead going to the 72nd hole, but made bogey to miss the playoff

Sung Hyun Park